L. E. CURLER LOSES HORSE AND BUGGY

When He Wanted to Go Home Last Night He Could Not Find His Property.

L. E. Curler, a farmer residing in the town of Rock, south of the Institute for the Blind, came to the city early last evening and left his horse and buggy tied in front of the Franklin house. Later in the evening when he was ready to start for home he found that the outfit was gone.

He notified Chief Hogan of the case about 9:30 o'clock and a search was at once started for the missing rig, but without success. Chief Hogan told Curler to go home and find out if the horse had not got loose and had gone home and let him know.

Last Seen
That was the last seen of Curler by the police until this morning when he came to town and notified the officers that the rig was still missing and that no trace of it could be found. The sheriff was at once notified of the fact and he and under-sheriff Cochrane started to work on the case.

Last Trace
They found out that the missing rig was seen in front of the Franklin house as late as eight o'clock but after that all trace of it is lost. The police in the surrounding towns have been notified and postal cards bearing a description of the missing rig sent about the country.

Similar Case

Archbishop Ireland Makes a Prophetic Statement as to Canada.

(Special By Scripps-McRae.)
New York, Nov. 12.—In speaking at the banquet of the Minnesota society in this city Archbishop Ireland expressed the belief that Canada will be under the domain of the United States. The transition, he said, would come without conquest, without war.

After telling of the growth of America in comparison with other great nations the archbishop said:

Trade Growth
"Within a few years the commerce of the states on the Pacific coast will equal that of those on the Atlantic. The development of the lands to the East, the West, the North and the South is going on more rapidly and safely than ever before, and we are reaping and will continue to reap the benefits. From the East the movement will be westward to that section, and from the West eastward to the same destination."

Just Acquisition
"I do not want to be bellicose, but I say this for myself: As sure as fate, although you and I may not see it, the stately banner will wave mistress over all the territory from the Gulf to the bay. The hearts across the border are already beating with love for us, and commerce and agriculture are calling for espousals."

TURKEY'S MINISTER FINDS A HOME

Finally Rents a Legation Home from Wary Washington Landlords.

(Special By Scripps-McRae.)
Washington, Nov. 12.—Without a ship to send to Turkey for collecting rents, it is hard to induce Washington landlords to extend their hospitality to the Turkish representative to this government. But Cheikh Bey has at last leased a house in S street, just off Connecticut avenue, for a legation home, and while living at the Metropolitan club is establishing himself there. His embarrasments have been many since coming to this country, for he found that the glory of the sultan's harem could not awe a Washington landlord into waiting for rent. The former Turkish minister found sufficient glory in representing the Turkish government here to repay him for defraying his own expenses and consequently ashore from securing a place sufficiently secluded for his beautiful veiled wife and young heir experienced no difficulties with landlords and tradesmen.

Has Trouble
Cheikh Bey is perhaps the wiser man of the two, for upon coming to Washington he maintained the legation in the same Cleveland park residence where he found it until his landlord demanded rent. This he could not meet and dismissed the matter with a shrug of the shoulders. When the cold blasts of winter came and his landlord drove him from shelter he rented a legation home at 1,218 New Hampshire avenue, which was fully equipped with everything but linen and tableware. He had been there only a few days when the Cleveland park happening came to the ears of his landlord, who demanded rent instead of a shrug. There was an embarrassing delay, when it looked much as if the snows of winter would envelop the representative of the sultan, as he sat upon the curb waiting for other quarters.

Aid Comes
With much ado a check was produced for the rent and subsequent checks followed until recently when Cheikh Bey sought new quarters. Then the landlord demanded damage to the amount of forty-five American dollars, whereupon he shrugged his shoulders and said that he was not subject to legal process.

Waterways Delegates Assemble at Quincy

An increase of the general appropriation for river improvement will be urged and the possibility of a freight steamship route from St. Paul to Liverpool discussed. A banquet will be held this evening, at which government representatives will speak.

To Improve Ohio Valley.

White, Major J. W. Vandervort and E. M. Gillespie. President Vance responded for the association. He urged that congress adopt a system of locks and dams in the Ohio river which will give a continuous stage of nine feet of water from Pittsburgh to Cairo. The convention seems heartily in accord with the plan. It is estimated the river improvement system will cost $60,000,000. Congressmen Grosvenor, Davenport and Hemenway spoke in favor of the proposed legislation.

CUBA'S CONDUCT IS PECULIAR

Actions of the Little Republic Annoy Washington Officials by Their Incivility.

(Special By Scripps-McRae.)
Washington, Nov. 12.—Recent actions of the Cuban government in certain matters have produced disquieting impressions upon some members of the administration. These actions have indicated an extreme sensitiveness on the part of the Cubans regarding any visible evidence of the United States. The island government some time ago asked that the United States remove the floating dry dock from Havana harbor, and this is now being done. A similar request was made in regard to the pile of coal which the navy department had deposited during the military occupation at Triscornia, near Havana.

Not Generous.
These requests have been regarded in Washington as indicating anything but a generous spirit on the part of the Cuban government. It is probable, however, that the administration will not allow Cuba's failure to act in regard to the Platt amendment to interfere with the effort to secure the ratification of a reciprocity treaty. President Roosevelt was not at all discouraged by the failure of congress at the last session to grant the desired relief, and it will make a strong recommendation on the subject in his annual message to congress next month.

Promised Aid
Immediately after the adjournment of the last session he made a speech at Pittsburgh in which he declared most emphatically that favorable trade concessions would be made for Cuba's benefit and he is fully determined that this policy shall be carried out this winter.

CASE IS REVERSED BY SUPREME COURT

MANUAL TRAINING IS VERY POPULAR

SIXTY-SEVEN STUDENTS ARE NOW TAKING THE COURSE.

EQUIPMENT MUCH IMPROVED

Five Rooms Now Given Up to the Work Under the Charge of Mr. Brace.

Attention has been called anew by the recent gift of a gavel to the city from the manual training department of the high school, to the work which is being done in that department. When G. M. Brace, the present instructor came to take charge of the work two years ago, there were eighteen students enrolled for manual training. Now there are sixty-seven.

At that time there were poorly arranged and equipped benches, and only a meager amount of apparatus for the other parts of the work. Now there are thirty-two benches, all of them made by the pupils, a complete set of tools and machinery for wood, iron and steel working, as well as drafting benches, tables and all other necessary paraphernalia.

To Make Exhibit Next week an exhibit will be placed in the window of Kimball's furniture store which will give an idea of what is being done in the manual training department. A number of pieces of furniture, and other articles which have been made by the pupils and taken to their home, will be resubmitted to show the public. An effort will be made to give a fairly complete idea of what the work amounts to.

In December as has been usual in the past, an exhibit will be sent to Milwaukee for a meeting of the teachers' association of the state. Those who saw the articles which were sent to Milwaukee last year said that it surpassed the display of any other school in the state.

A fine machine, the school board has been especially generous toward this department, and has largely increased the appropriations for this purpose. Instead of the three lathes which formerly were in use, there are now eight. One of them, of the Manning, Maxwell & Moore make of Chicago, is said to be the equal of anything in the city. In accuracy and capability for doing any kind of work, it is as nearly perfect as it is possible to make anything of that kind.

Last week a new emery grinder was added to the equipment, but it was not necessary to ask for a special appropriation for it. The plans and specifications were drawn up by some of the students, and these were given over to the Janesville Machine company to have the castings made. It is impossible to do this part of the work in the high school building, for lack of a furnace. When the castings were made they were finished, and the remainder of the work of fitting the parts, and adjusting it in running order, was done by the pupils.

Make Their Own Tools All of the tools used in the iron working department are made there. Hammers, tongs, chucks, and all of the turning tools for the lathes are samples of the students' workmanship. When a tool becomes past usefulness it is remade.

In the wood working department a book case is now being made for the Adams school. In workmanship it compares favorably with a book case of the same pattern at any furniture store in the city. Similar book cases have already been turned out for the use of the other schools, among them the Webster and the Jefferson schools.

An Excellent Workman Some of the pupils have attained an unusual degree of proficiency. Mr. Brace says of George Simmons, who made the gavel which was presented for the use of Mayor Richardson, that there is not a man in the city who can do better work.

But it is not the principal object of the course to make mechanics. Mr. Brace believes that the educative and disciplining effect of a course along these lines should be recognized as equal to that of the other studies of the curriculum. Many a boy who has just finished the ward school comes to the high school tired of his books. He may not have had the right sort of training at the outset, or he may have been discouraged by some disadvantage. At any rate he has come to be regarded as a dullard, and he wishes that he were out of school.

Gives Good Discipline Manual training appeals to such a boy, as something out of the ordinary, and something that does not require study, but he soon finds that it requires work, hard and accurate. But he is interested in it by this time, and finds that he can do the work as well as the next boy, if not a little better. Gains confidence in himself and the effect is soon seen in his other studies as well as in the manual training department.

"So that while our students in the entering classes," said Mr. Brace, "are often the poorest students in school they graduate with as high rank as any others."

The Course Laid Out During the first year the students are given bench work in wood, going on in the next year with the same thing half the time, and half the time lathe work. In the Junior year forge work in iron occupies one half of the time, and the remaining hours are divided equally between bench and lathe work in wood. The Senior year is occupied with machine work in steel, forging in iron, and bench and lathe work in wood. Each year all of the work that has been done in previous years is continued.

Throughout the four year's course draughting is the accompaniment of all of the work. No work is done until a drawing has first been made in India ink, drawn to scale. The draughting begins with the drawings of the work done in the shop and in the Sophomore year also embraces geometrical and orthographic projections. In the next year cabinet draughting and isometric projections are studied, and in the last year the draughting of all exercises is combined with perspective.

The course is complete giving everything which a draughtsman could need with the exception of architecture.

May Make Extensions Five rooms are now used for the manual training department, situated in the south end of the basement of the high school building. Two of them are used for the bench work in wood, one for wood working machinery, one for the forge and machine working iron, and one as a draughting room. In addition to these there is a small tool room. It is expected that these quarters will be added to next year. The present sixty-seven students are more or less cramped in the space which is now given to the work.

Johnson, age 24 years, were granted a license to wed by County Clerk Noron this afternoon. There will be another marriage ceremony."

The license was granted after the prospective groom had secured the guardianship of William J. Johnson, an employee of the Forest City Furniture factory, who lives at 1013 Seventh street.

Mr. Larson and Miss Johnson were married at the Seventh street Salvation army barracks by Colonel Sowden of Chicago last Wednesday evening.

Evidently the young couple did not have the second ceremony performed in Rockford as a marriage license was issued to them last Friday by County Clerk F. P. Starr. Larson gives his residence as Janesville and Miss Johnson resides at Beloit.

RIDE IN HAYRACK TAKEN BY SENIORS

Were Out for a Good Time Last Evening—Sophomore Boys Hire a Carryall.

Although yesterday's football game resulted in an 0 to 0 tie and neither the Seniors nor the Sophomores won the school championship, and the Denison trophy, both classes were out for a jollification last evening and the night air resounded with the vigorous class yell.

Members of the Senior class had planned for a hay rack ride, hoping that it might prove a celebration of victory, but ready for a jolly time in any event. The plans with the exception of the victory part, were carried out and quite a large delegation of Seniors, young men and women, spent a happy evening together. A long ride through the country was taken, it being the opinion of the merry makers that it would be better taste for them to wait to paint the town a carmine hue until the purple and white had really come off victorious.

Sophs. Out Too The Sophomores did not look at the matter in the same light. A large crowd of the boys secured a carryall and had all kinds of fun in riding around the city, giving their class yell and cheering. Individual members of the team. They found special delight in visiting the homes of football enthusiasts of the Senior class and giving the Sophomore yell with all the vigor possible.

Tim Murphy The announcement that Mr. Tim Murphy is soon to appear in this city in a revival of his greatest comedy success, "Old Innocence," is a matter for congratulation among the patrons of first class theatrical attractions. Mr. Murphy has never been seen to better advantage than as "Jason Green," in the above classic little comedy. There is so much humor, so much homely pathos in the part, that he provokes a laugh or induces tears to come a case. Mr. Murphy's appearance in this city will be at the Myers Grand on next Thursday night.

SOCIAL FOR CHURCH MEMBERS

Daughters of the King of Christ Church Will Entertain. On Thursday evening the Daughters of the King will entertain the members of Christ church at a social meeting to be held in the parish house at 7:30 o'clock. Through some mistake there seems to be general impression that the social is being given by the parish of the church when the fact is that the parish members will be the guests of the evening, the Daughters of the King being the hostesses.

ANNIVERSARY WAS HAPPILY OBSERVED

Mr. and Mrs. W.B. Hough Entertained a Company of Friends Most Hospitably.

Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Hough entertained a company of friends at their home, 11 Home Park avenue, in honor of their fifteenth wedding anniversary. The guests were entertained at supper and the bounteous repast, which proved the ability of the hostess in the culinary art, was enjoyed by all. After the supper the evening was spent pleasantly with music and games and it was a late hour when final congratulations were extended and goodnight were said. Many beautiful and useful gifts in crystal were left behind in evidence of the esteem in which the host and hostess are held.

JANESVILLE BOY AT PRESIDIO

Charles Caniff Writes His Friends He Prefers Wisconsin to Army Life in California.

Charles Caniff, a Janesville boy, now a member of the 76th Infantry, Co. A, stationed at the Presidio, San Francisco, Cal., writes that he has been in the general hospital for the past two months, having his eyes operated on, and that he is now getting along nicely. He has eight more months to serve before his time of service expires and is looking forward to the time when he will return to Janesville. He says that California is all right for climate but that he prefers southern Wisconsin with its winter weather to California with its rains.

Officer Patrick Fanning now sleeps at the city hall where he can easily be reached by telephone any night after he is off duty on the streets. This is a good move on the part of Chief Hogan to have an officer where he can be called during the night in case of emergency.

NOVEL MASQUE OF UNIQUE CLUB

One Hundred Couples Enjoyed an Evening of Pleasure Last Night.

The Unique Club masquerade held last evening in Assembly hall was certainly a success, and reflects great credit on the club committees that had the affair in charge. There were about one hundred couples masked and characters of all kinds were represented. "Boho, who eats them alive" and numerous other good make-ups were there.

From the time Smith's orchestra of five pieces started playing, shortly before nine o'clock, until after one o'clock the floor was covered with dancers, and all of them had an enjoyable time. The grand march was held at 10:15 and was led by W. F. McCue as the "Yellow Kid" and W. E. Denniston as "Carrie Nation."

FUNERAL AT BRODHEAD

Rev. Henderson Was Officiating Clergyman at Sad Service.

Rev. J. T. Henderson went to Brodhead today to officiate at the funeral of the late Arthur Christopher Schempp which occurred this afternoon. Mr. Schempp was only twenty-two years of age and was one of the most popular young men in Brodhead. He was born in Monroe, Sept. 28, 1880 but had lived in Brodhead the greater part of his life. He graduated from the High School in 1898 and went to Bowdoin, S. D. to enter the employ of his uncle. He had never been strong since an attack of typhoid fever in 1892 and a severe attack of scarlet fever in 1901 was followed by a decline which terminated in consumption. He had been a member of the Presbyterian church for several years.

Conflicting Temperance Methods.

In Austria it is held that the sale of bottled liquors must be stopped, as it encourages "home drinking" and intemperance. In this country the sale of bottled spirits is encouraged in an effort to do away with saloons. It is difficult to combine the remedies for intemperance into one harmonious whole.

LOVE, THE POWER THAT RULES ALL

WORLD DOES NOT NEED MEN'S LENGTHY PRAYERS.

IT NEEDS CHRISTIAN LIVES

Rev. L. J. Vaughn Scores Church Members for Lack of Charity Toward the Fallen.

St. Mary's church was filled almost to its capacity last evening with admiring friends of Rev. Father L. J. Vaughn of LaCrosse, the eloquent priest who has established himself firmly in the esteem and affections of all Janesville people who have been privileged to hear or meet him.

On last evening Rev. Vaughn spoke under the auspices of the choir of St. Mary's church and his lecture was preceded by a brief concert which was opened with a cornet solo by Prof. W. T. Thiele. The selection chosen was an exquisite one, "Meditation," by Calixa Lavallee, and Prof. Thiele played it with artistic taste and sympathy. Miss Tessie Gibbons presided at the organ during all of the musical numbers.

The cornet solo was followed by a chorus, "Ave Maria," by Novello, given by the large children's choir under the direction of Miss Lillie Bourgmeier. The children sang exceptionally well. The last musical number before the lecture was the "Sanctus" from Wiegand's mass, beautifully rendered by the large chorus choir of thirty-five voices under the direction of Prof. Thiele. The choir is making rapid advancement and was at its best last evening.

Speaks With Power "The Power of Love" was the subject chosen by Rev. Vaughn for his masterly lecture which was one of the most brilliant ever given in the city. It is small wonder that Rev. Vaughn always holds his audiences spellbound. He is a power in the pulpit or on the lecture platform.

His descriptions are graceful and easily expressed and some of his descriptions are matchless word paintings. He speaks rapidly, earnestly and with burning eloquence, holding the breathless attention of his audience. His lectures are enhanced by his dramatic delivery which is a reminder of the time when he was one of the well known Shakespearean actors of the American stage.

Love Above All

After referring to the fact that it always seemed like coming home to come to Janesville, Rev. Vaughn stated that everything in the universe speaks of love. If he spoke the heart of God it would be the one word—Love. The Bible and the spirit of Christ are summed up in that one word. God is love and by that divine love he created the world. The speaker then gave a graphic and beautiful description of the creation and of the placing of man in power over the beautiful world. In all that paradise man alone sinned, striking the discordant note in the grand harmony, and the beautiful world was lost. Then God owed man only wrath and scorn but out of love he gave him a saving hope, a promised redeemer.

Christ Crowded Out

The lovely birth of Christ was described. There was no room for him and in 1900 years how little the heart of the world has changed, how little it has learned the law of love which might make this world a paradise. Men's hearts are so full of their business affairs and ambitions that there is no room for Christ. It is because men have not learned the lesson of love that nations rise up and war against each other, neighbors seek to gain advantage over each other and homes are deserted. Men insist on looking for happiness where pain lurks to sting; they try to drink from the chalice of worldliness.

Live Beautifully

Love is the foundation stone, the completion and the soul of Christianity. Religion is more than a cloak, long prayers, loud hymns and professions. To be a Christian means to be another Christ, to go out into the world and live, never mind the prayers and professions, but know the life of the master and live it simply and beautifully.

In this beautiful country, the temple of liberty, poor houses, asylums, jails and penitentiaries are crowded because men will not learn the lesson of love. They pray "Our Father" on Sunday and on Monday they lash the backs of our Father's sons. Christians men and women deem themselves better than the Christ and have no time for the person who takes the first false step. It is a mistake to think men are bad because they are weak.

Help The Fallen

Rev. Vaughn told of the pathos of the life of the fallen woman and of the convict, in whom is still the immortal soul for which Christ died. He urged Christians men and women to hold out a helping hand to these sinning ones, saying that what the world needs is not more churches, more ministers, more professing Christians, but more men who will live in sympathy, charity and brotherly love. Charity should not be at arm's length but hand-to-hand fellowship.

Do Not Criticize

The speaker condemned the habit of Christians of criticizing other people when they should be helping. The beauty of life is in the little things. Love is the only thing that makes life worth living but men are constantly throwing away God's blessing when they should be catching his sunshine.

To Repair Organ

After the lecture the choir sang the "Gloria" from Wiegand's mass. The object of the lecture was to raise money for the new motor for the organ and through the individual efforts of the choir this object has been realized. After paying for the organ repairs there will still be a small surplus.

TO MOVE OFFICE TO MINNEAPOLIS

Pendleton & Gilkey Will Have Their General Shipping Offices in Twin City.

Pendleton & Gilkey will close out their wholesale lumber business in this city and will open an office in Minneapolis, through which all of their wholesale business will be handled. They will still keep the local yard for retail business and put a man in charge of it.

Their reason for moving their wholesale business to Minneapolis is, that they were unable to handle their wholesale trade on cedar and other lumber they are cutting in Washington, as well as they could from Minneapolis.

Open in Minneapolis

When Mr. Pendleton was here a short time ago from Everett, Washington, he and Mr. Gilkey went to Minneapolis and made arrangements to open an office in that city. The firm will make the change in a short time but Alderman Gilkey and family will not go to Minneapolis to reside probably before next spring.

The Opening Show.

Wednesday AND Thursday Nov. 12 and 13th.

It has been our intention to give a fall opening, but owing to the vast amount of work necessary to get our great fall and winter stock into shape, for ready selling, rush of business etc., we could not get to it earlier—However, not disparaging, although a little late, we have reserved two days, Wednesday and Thursday, Nov. 12th and 13th, for a formal opening, and the store will be trimmed throughout, up stairs, and down for the occasion.

It will afford the great public an excellent opportunity to see the store at its best, and also form an idea of the immensity of the stock, its wonderful completeness. We want everybody to feel free to come. In every city there is a certain proportion of the people who patronize stores in large cities through their catalogues, or visit the stores in person, without trying to find out whether articles can be obtained in the home stores. To such people we extend a special invitation to call and compare notes. Owing to the vast amount of merchandise sold by The Big Store it enables us to buy goods from manufacturers and commission men who sell only to the wholesale trade, or the largest retailers. While our prices may not always be lower than others, in many instances one will find that we will make an extra special display of

NEW LAWS ASKED FOR BY HUNTERS

COMPLAIN AGAINST THE USE OF SCULL BOATS.

CUSTOM AT LAKE KOSHKONONG

Men Who Hunt Merely for Sport, Are at a Disadvantage Under Existing Conditions.

There seems to be a growing feeling among the shooters that visit Koshkonong, and who are not able to run a scull boat, that something must be done by the legislature to abolish this form of hunting before they can get a chance to kill a duck. The hunting from scull boats as now conducted on Lake Koshkonong, is all right for the scull boat hunter and does not scare the ducks in their feeding grounds, nearly as much as a blind stuck out in some isolated bunch of rushes.

The law now allows the hunter to set his decoys not more than two hundred feet from any bunch of rushes that would wholly or partially conceal the hunter, and pursue the ducks to the decoys in a boat.

This law could be all right if the hunters would be reasonable about it, that the market hunters and others who make a business of duck shooting are not satisfied to run things in a reasonable way.

The great trouble comes from the number of decoys used and the way they are set out in the lake. Almost every hunter about the lake that has hunted ducks for any length of time, has from one hundred and fifty to two hundred decoys and in some cases even more. These hunters go to the lake early in the summer and stake out the choice points, then when the ducks arrive two or three of them will get together and set out their flocks of decoys in a long string alongside the outside of the rushes, and in some cases cover a space a quarter of a mile in length. They then go back to the thick rushes and run out to any part of the flock that the ducks happen to settle in. By this means two men occupy an amount of territory that several men who shoot from blinds might occupy. It is very unfair and shuts out the man who hunts for sport, and practically turns the lake over to the market hunter. In order that the hunter who is not able to run a scull can get a chance to do a little shooting, it will be necessary to abolish the use of floats and make the hunters shoot from blinds or natural cover.

It would be an easy matter for the game wardens to stop the sculling and the use of floats as a sneak boat, by having a law passed declaring any boat with a scull hole in it a nuisance and liable to seizure, and not allowing the hunters to paddle or row on ducks that light on the decoys.

The use of floats under the present existing law does not disturb the birds in their feeding beds. When the ducks light among the decoys, the hunter runs out and makes the shot and is soon back ashore or in the thick rushes out of sight. There is nothing but a flock of decoys left out in the lake and these do not alarm the passing flocks. Another thing that is really in favor of the present way of shooting is, that no ducks are shot at by the scull boat hunters unless they light among the decoys and he is able to run up to them. With blind shooting in a great number of cases, the hunter shoots at passing ducks, when there is no earthly show of killing them and only frightens them and makes them wild.

The present law might be all right if it was amended and each hunter allowed to use only a certain number of decoys, and that no two flocks should be set within a certain distance of each other. This would shut out two or three scull boat hunters joining their flocks together and having one big bunch. By this means the gentleman that wishes to use a blind could have some show to get out where the ducks fly by and get once in a while a shot, instead of sitting back in the rushes out of the way and watching the other fellow shoot.

TOWN BETTERMENT.

HOW AN IMPROVEMENT LEAGUE BEAUTIFIED BAY RIDGE.

Cleaner Streets, Neater Front and Back Yards and Many Other Changes For the Better Since the Organization Began Work.

Bay Ridge, a suburb of Brooklyn, has been improved greatly in the last few months owing to the work of the Woman's Improvement league. Its streets are cleaner than ever before, its front and back yards have been beautified with flowers and plants, and the whole place has changed for the better since the league began work.

The Woman's Improvement league is the outgrowth of the Bay Ridge Reading club, which has met weekly on Thursday mornings for fifteen years, says the New York Tribune. Until last June the club had confined itself to literary matters and occasional luncheons and lectures, but the unkempt condition of certain neighboring streets led its members to consider means for bettering conditions. The day the public schools closed the society was officially organized, and the members left the first meeting in carriages for flying trips to the schools in order to get hearings with the children before they should be scattered for the summer.

Eight awards were offered—first, second and third prizes of $5, $3 and $2 respectively, for the greatest improvement in the back yards and the same for front yards to the middle of the street; $3 for the best window box in a home where there was no ground to cultivate and $5 for the largest number of contributing members added to the club. The children were to do all the work of the yards. About fifty children entered the lists. Visits were made by members of the club about July 1 to the houses of all the enrolled competitors and conditions were carefully noted. Suggestions for laying out and planting the gardens were also made. Rounds were again made before the opening of school to note the change.

A condition of the test was that the competitors must not only keep their gardens free from weeds and disorder and their plants in healthy condition, but they must also pick up paper, old cans and all rubbish wherever they saw it scattered in the streets. To insure success in the last undertaking an appeal was sent to the authorities for rubbish cans to be placed at school-houses and at the junction of certain streets. The appeal was heeded promptly, and the receptacles are now dotted through Bay Ridge.

The most thickly populated blocks of Bay Ridge are made up of two family houses, and it was for the benefit of children occupying the second floors of such buildings that the prize for window boxes was offered. This effort has met with less enthusiasm. Landlords object to the placing of window boxes in tenement house windows, as they disfigure the sills. The neighbors on lower floors, too, are likely to remonstrate against the dripping of water over their windows from upper floors. Then if the houses have blinds the boxes furnish an obstacle. It is probable that hereafter prizes will be offered for thrifty house plants.

So far about $20 in ten cent annual fees has been brought in by the youngsters, meaning an added membership to the league of about 200. The children themselves constitute the associate members of the league and the grown ups, who pay the 10 cents yearly, the contributing members. Each child wears a button bearing a device in the form of a tree and the legend, "Improvement League."

Other committees of the league are devoted respectively to sanitation, cleanliness, the care of trees, of new streets and the gaining of better traveling facilities for the population. The chairman of the sanitation committee trucks strange odors to their sources and reports unsavory conditions to the powers that be. The president both of the league and of the reading club heads the tree committee. She has obtained from the authorities a permanent permit for the league to trim and tend all trees, with the permission of their owners, without further license. This committee discovered that certain pipes were being placed under the sidewalk of Third avenue instead of through the middle of the street, thus making the successful planting of trees along that thoroughfare an impossibility. Word was sent to the borough hall, and the pipes were laid in their proper place. The widening of Third avenue necessitated the removal of the large old trees lining it. The new street committee sees that when thoroughfares are cut through the work is continued until they are passable for vehicles.

In speaking of their work recently the treasurer of the organization said: "The prizes offered by the Woman's Improvement league of Bay Ridge to the school children of that district for the most carefully kept yards have proved a wonderful stimulus to the young gardeners. In some cases plots that were in the worst condition when school closed are among the best kept now. The parents of the children have shown the greatest enthusiasm in the effort, and their encouragement to the girls and boys has been of the greatest aid."

A Prize For Next Promises.
The El Paso Good Roads association offered a cash prize to the residents of any one block in the city who shall have done the best work, from July 21 to Aug. 15, in clearing away weeds, cleaning ditch boxes and maintaining a neat appearance about his premises. The idea contains a happy suggestion.

Good highways are an excellent advertisement for a town.

BANKERS MEET AT NEW ORLEANS

AGREE ON NEED OF NEW LAWS

No Division on Necessity for Legislation, but Diversity of Opinion on Methods—Congressman Fowler to Explain Terms of His Bill.

New Orleans, La., Nov. 12.—The many hundreds of bankers in attendance at the twenty-eighth annual convention of the American Bankers' association in this city are for the time being typical examples of the strenuous life and of business men in politics. There is an atmosphere of extraordinary hustle around the leading hotels where bankers from the Atlantic are shaking hands with those from the Pacific, those from the great cities of the north with their hosts of the new south, where presidents of great city banks are doing their best to convince the country bankers that they are really interested in their welfare.

There is equality, fraternity at this convention, and also politics. This convention is divided over issues which, generally speaking, array the east against the west, the bankers of the country against those of the cities.

Vital Issues.
It is anticipated that there will be such a clashing of flashing ideas as has never before been known in a national bankers' convention. The issues to be settled are considered vital, and worthy of a battle royal.

The great issues are branch banks and assets currency. Generally speaking, the east favors them, while the west is opposed to them. The bankers of the great cities are friendly to them; those of the country opposed to them. Nearly all the western state conventions of bankers have passed resolutions bitterly opposing the Fowler bill, while the eastern state conventions, on the other hand, have nearly all endorsed the Fowler bill.

Fowler to Speak.
Charles W. Fowler will try to convince the bankers of the west that they have misjudged his bill and ought to support it at the next session of congress. Mr. Fowler will be supported in his arguments for branch banks and assets currency by Horace White, the veteran editor of the New York Evening Post. Opposed to these two will be Charles G. Dawes of Chicago and C. A. Pugsley of New York, also a member of congress.

Favors Elastic Currency.
The feature of the opening session was Comptroller Ridgely's address on "The Changes in Banking Conditions." It was a diplomatic masterpiece. In that, while it favored assets currency and sympathized with branch banks, it was not offensive to those opposed to such propaganda. Mr. Ridgely's speech was in the main a reaffirmation of the "state middle ground" plan suggested in his last report, except that he was more specific in his suggestions. He advocated an "elastic currency," to be furnished by an addition to the present bank note circulation covered by bonds of an amount of uncovered notes equal to 50 per cent of their surplus, with a graduated tax against them and facilities for redemption.

He carefully avoided use of the term assets currency in designation of elastic currency.

No Banking Trusts.
Mr. Herrick opened with a tribute to J. P. Morgan as a type of banker which had amazed the financial world, and then in the course of his address said that trusts, in the common acceptance of the term, had not invaded banking, and that combinations to control the business had not been or could not be formed.

"The greater the force of the trust movement in the direction of over-capitalization," he said, "the reader the country will be to look upon banks and bankers as champions of independence in business and as safeguards of conservatism."

Mr. Herrick said public confidence in bankers had grown much stronger in recent years and promised a steady progression in the future.

THE SPEAKERSHIP

A lively contest is going on just over the speakership of the next house of congress in which Congressman Cannon of Illinois appears to be in the lead. Mr. Babcock of Wisconsin has not yet formally announced his candidacy, but it is generally understood that he will be in the race, as his name is prominently mentioned.

Two or three eastern men also aspire to the position, but it is generally conceded that inasmuch as the east has the presidency, and is likely to retain it for another term, that the speakership should fall to the middle west.

The Chicago Tribune in gathering press opinion on the subject finds that the republican papers in Minnesota are practically a unit for Cannon, while press sentiment in Iowa is more or less divided. Wisconsin very naturally favors Babcock, and Iowa should be in line for him as he led the fight for Henderson four years ago.

Some of the Minnesota papers give as a reason for supporting Cannon, that he favors tariff revision, and because of this fact he should be honored with leadership.

This argument is too weak to command serious attention. The next session of congress is the short session, and but little will be attempted in the way of radical legislation.

While the democratic party and a small contingency of the republican party, are clamoring for tariff revision, there has been no expression of popular sentiment in this direction.

The late endorsement of republican principles, indicates that the people are satisfied with the administration. When the country is consuming 95 per cent. of all it produces, and every body is prosperous, there is but little legitimate demand for a change.

The next speaker, whether Babcock, Cannon or any other man, should be in sympathy and hearty accord with the president.

The democratic party is destitute of any issue for the coming national campaign. It will make an effort to crystallize the populist and socialist elements of both parties in a grand stampede for tariff revision or free trade.

If there was ever a time in the history of the republican party, when it needed level headed leadership, that time is today. Free trade is a flattering fallacy. It promises much but produces nothing but disaster.

The republican party is courting defeat when it forms an alliance with democratic theories, that have ever proved impractical.

Uncle Joe Cannon is tainted with the disease. It is a whole argument against him for the responsible position to which he aspires.

RESULTS OF A JUMP IN THE DARK

The figures of the Massachusetts Bureau of Labor Statistics give some interesting sidelights on the effect of so-called tariff reform as practiced in 1892-96 on the industries of Massachusetts.

The year 1892 was prosperous under the McKinley tariff, one of the most prosperous years in American history. The same cry was made then that is made now, to the effect that although business seemed prosperous, although no skilled mechanic was unemployed, although all statistics and trial balances showed a steady advance in industry that really our "abandoned farms" and "vanishing industries" showed that we needed rescue from ruin by tariff smashing.

The remedy was tried by putting the United States in control of the Carrie Nations of the tariff issue.

Business did not wait for the Wilson bill to be passed. It anticipated its effect by taking in sails at once.

The average number of days of operation of all the industries of Massachusetts, including those not affected by any possible change in the tariff, was 297.83 in 1892. It dropped to 278.40 in 1893. It was, but 281.03 in 1896. It was $292.78 last year.

The proportion of business done as compared with total possible capacity was 69.38 per cent. in 1892. It dropped to 61.49 per cent. in 1893. It was but 59.39 in 1896. It had recovered to 68.09 in 1901.

The total amount paid in wages in the typical factories under review by the bureau was $137,972,501 in 1892, $122,495,937 in 1893, $130,845,551 in 1896 and $179,851,715 in 1901.

Any access at the polls of a general scheme of tariff smashing would unquestionably have as damaging effect on industry and business in 1902 as the victory of the same scheme advanced by the same men had in 1892.

Why risk it?—Boston "Commercial Bulletin."

HARK, FROM THE TOMBS!

The one distinguished democrat, Grover Cleveland, is once more to the fore with his panacea for all ills—disturbance of the tariff. Mr. Cleveland's previous calamitous monkeying with prosperity, until there was no prosperity left to monkey with, apparently taught him nothing. He is as "set in his ways" as the burro on a thousand hills. To him free-trade under another name, will cure wars on man and plip in chickens. To Grover, of whom we had "four more years" mixed with trouble of all sorts, there is nothing to a nation so dangerous as a surplus in the Treasury. To this masterful fisherman, all actual prosperity is merely a seeming so, and even though the country be rolling in wealth it is really in a horrible fix and doesn't know it. Truly, and indeed, there is but one of the great Grover's kind. He is sui generis. He stands alone in his majesty as a destroyer of industry, a creator of tramps and mobilizer of Coxey armies. The American people however, do not forget the gray days when the duck hunter was overflowing the Presidential chair, and the policies he may choose to advocate will be fought as shy of as bubonic plague and other evils. The soup kitchen has gone to stay, let us fondly hope.—Los Angeles "Times."

WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

The scarcity of women, who took upon themselves the responsibility of voting, at the recent election, indicates that in Wisconsin at least, the demand for woman suffrage is extremely limited.

The way was made easy for them as they were invited and urged to participate, but the response was so meager, that in many places the sex was not represented.

This spirit of indifference doubtless seems deplorable on the part of a few enthusiastic women whose hobby has long been the suffrage question, but it speaks volumes for the modesty and domesticity of Wisconsin homes.

Mrs. Lease and Carrie Nation are not regarded as model housewives or home keepers, and while they are extremists, they are nevertheless in the demand for the rights of women.

Every intelligent mother recognizes the obligations that are upon her in training the child for good citizenship. She is interested in the issues of the day, and keeps herself informed on questions of state and national importance. She believes that her mission is in the home and is content when the children go out of it, if they are mentally and morally well equipped.

She is the recognized power behind the throne, and in her sphere is accomplishing more for Christian civilization, and intelligent citizenship than all other forces combined.

This class of women, and they are largely in the majority, are not clamoring for suffrage.

While the school question was not political and would naturally interest women who care nothing for politics, the light vote indicates very clearly that Wisconsin women are content to "stop at home" while the men scrap it out at the polls.

Castro has entered Caracas with great pomp and glory. One account says that he had an elaborate procession on his entrance and that the Roman emperors were not in it with his grand procession. So far so good. Meanwhile those revolutionists are hanging about on the outside of the city and they may have a procession themselves some day.

Mollneux, who was charged with the murder of Mrs. Adams of New York, two years ago, and who was just tried for the second time for the murder has been freed. He certainly has been a patient sufferer during his confinement and has been, as it were, snatched from the jaws of death.

It may be funny to read about that ducking of the Minnesota student in the waters of Lake Mendota. It may have been right to do so after he spied upon the boys playing football but then I bet it was awful cold in that water just the same.

Milwaukee papers are still wondering where they stand and one old reliable journal prints many weird fictions stories, about probable complications that will arise out of the present election, presumably to fill space.

Did you notice how chipper and gay old Grover is getting? Do you suppose the old boy is really settling his tie for the old widow Democracy with the hopes of asking her for her hand in marriage. Pie, Grover you shouldn't deceive the old lady again.

"Powder Up" Collins of Milwaukee who was found guilty of robbing a poor drunken man will be given another chance at a Milwaukee jury and may avoid going to prison after all.

The deer season has now fairly started and thus far six hunters have been taken for deer and have given their lives as a sacrifice to the greed for sport.

There was a blizzard scheduled by the weather office that has failed to put in an appearance. It has evidently been lost on the way or is stopping for a rest.

Hunters at Lake Koshkonong complain of the use of sneak boats. Well, sneak boats seem to get the ducks all right and they are within the limits of the law, too?

Coal is being hustled around the lakes to Milwaukee and Chicago as fast as it can be shipped into Buffalo and boats be found that can handle it.

A Milwaukee boy with the brightest of prospects has been found drowned in the waters of Lake Michigan and no cause except too much theater can be assigned.

There is not so much talk now of free silver nor of free trade since the republican tornado went through the country a week ago.

There is not so much talk now of dom of Socrates. He has bought a ling or fishing and when he goes fishing or hunting he picks out the nice windy day and sails.

This warm weather is more than a boom to the workman as it gives him time to earn a few more days' pay before the cold weather sets in.

When President Roosevelt gets down among the negroes of the Mississippi cane swamps he may find what "life among the lowly" really is.

"Work for the night is coming," is Coach Stagg's advice to the football men of Chicago University.

There seems to be no let up to the animosity of some people even after they have got the earth.

New York had a bridge fire that did $75,000 damage to a bridge that has taken two years to build.

Hayti has been quiet for some days past what trouble can be brewing down there next?

Now they have another man who has the senatorial bee in his bonnet. Who next?

Harmony is being preached but alas, it has not been practiced.

Janesville is at present having a surfeit of good plays.

PRESS COMMENT

Wisconsin State Journal: Harmony wasn't so shy after all.

Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin: The predicted cold wave is low enough to have pretty cold feet.

Madison Democrat: The democrats ought not to have expected to make a Rose bloom in November.

Evening Wisconsin: Some democrats are blaming it on Roosevelt; and it's a good thing to be blamed for.

Fond du Lac Reporter: Well, its all over now and we can once more turn our thoughts at our private affairs.

Detroit Journal: Canada's jealousy of us does not prevent her choking down five gallons of our beer per head and per annum.

La Crosse Chronicle: The only promise that Dave Rose ever kept: That he would not take any other office until he served out his term as mayor of Milwaukee.

Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin: No, the democratic campaign managers are not trying to dig out; they are simply tunneling to discover, if possible, the misleading basis of their ante-election claims.

Beloit Free Press: No one hereafter will have the hardihood to assert the non-adaptability of women for the right of suffrages since a woman was arrested at Denver for voting three times.

Galesburg Evening Mail: Winston Churchill and Booth Tarkington have both been elected. We probably shall soon have laws compelling every person aged 21 or over to purchase at least one novel a month.

Wisconsin State Journal: It will take the new legislature less time to elect a new senator the coming winter than the legislature of 1899 required. It is pretty nearly an unanimous proposition this time.

Boston Herald: And apropos of the wiping out of Bryanism, the latest quotation for silver makes the silver dollar look like thirty-six cents intrinsically.

Washington Post: The Ohio republican leaders are not entitled to any particular credit for that large majority. The Ohio voters were simply running away from Tom Johnsonism.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat: The discovery of a female repeater at the polls in Denver opens the eyes to the perils of woman suffrage. It gives a woman a reason for changing her costume half a dozen times in election day.

Kansas City Star: It was not very gallant on the part of General Corbin, who was but recently married, to take occasion to advise young army officers against matrimony. But General Corbin has really no reputation for gallantry to lose.

Milwaukee Sentinel: The news that J. P. Morgan has cleared up $2,000,000 in the past year will be welcome to the friends of the financier, who feared that he would have difficulty in keeping the wolf from the door.

Fond du Lac Reporter: The Menasha man who had a stroke of apoplexy when he learned of his daughter's engagement will not receive much sympathy from the man who has six daughters without a beau between them.

Plymouth Review: The defeat of Rose is creditable to the people of Wisconsin. They have set their seal of disapproval upon his low ideals, his methods as a politician, his dishonesty and his appeals to the basest there is in man. So be it with men of his stamp.

Hudson Star-Times: Now would be a good time to follow Hon. Ira B. Bradford's sage advice to bury the epithets, "stalwarts" and "half breeds," and henceforward be only republicans. The party will need us all in a united front for the great campaign of 1904. Then, it is so much more comfortable to be fighting the common enemy than to be fighting on one's own threshold.

Milwaukee News: Chairman Warden has the true sanguine democratic spirit. He says he is disappointed but with his head out of the wreck he is able to look down the road and see the democratic special in the next campaign making record-breaking time, with the republican way freight side-tracked and the road clear to the end of the line.

St. Paul Pioneer Press: Col. John Jacob Astor has served the public well already in contributing his services in Cuba and a battery in the Philippines. The contribution of his patent rights in his turbine marine engine is sensational, but likely to prove even more valuable. It at least indicates that his public spirit is not of the kind that takes a war to set it in motion.

Eau Claire Daily Leader: The republican party is safe in Wisconsin for the next two years. The question well now confronts the people of the state is, will Spooner be re-elected? Certainly not, if La Follette can help it. That gentleman is unalterably opposed to any one who does not endorse, uphold and support his views on all subjects. He has the patronage of a great state in his hands. He has two months in which to carry out his designs. He has a way of convincing the mind by torturing the body and establishing the doctrine of charity and forbearance of intolerant persecution.

BOARD LIMITS TAX HEARINGS

Corporation Representatives Are Given Time to Present Cases.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 12.—The capital stock committee of the state board of equalization will not hear representatives of corporations after Thursday of next week. This was decided at a meeting of the committee. "There is such an accumulation of work on hand," said Chairman Barnes, "that it will be impossible to give any time to hearings after Thursday of next week. Until that time we will be glad to listen to anyone who has views to present. After next week, however, we must give our entire attention to the work before us that it may be completed in time to be reported to the counties so they will not be delayed in extending their totals."

THE BEST LIGHTED STORES

In any city in any state in these United States are the most prosperous stores. Not because they have more money to spend, but on the contrary, the more prosperous the sharper may be the point of the pencil used by the "boss." Most lighted because they recognize and have recognized since the days of the starting of the Electric Light plant that nothing attracts customers as does a well lighted store, nothing the merchant can place in window decoration, sales, etc., can produce a more real hard cash showing than an arc lamp in front of store or one in front of each window.

Customers want to be attracted to the store, they want to see to get in, they want to see the inside when they get in; not just a spot here and there, but the whole store; they want to see the goods they purchase, they want to see the goods upon the shelves, and the merchant that does not let them see is the one that does not make the sale.

Don't make your customers quit up their eyes to ask you across the counter, "Cut out your street 'dogger,' cut down some newspaper space is necessary, but 'let your light shine.'"

Lots of people forget the price, forget difference of a nickel or a dime if they get the service—service means light.

Make that store a bright, attractive one, your customers' breath better, foot floor and speed faster.

Give them the light to see seed more often opens the purse strings in man talk, and the best of it—but have good light.

Arc lamps give the clear steady light required.

FORTY-SIX ARE NOW MEMBERS

THE PARKER PEN CO. MAKE EMPLOYEES Y. M. C. A. MEMBERS.

GIVEN THREE-MONTHS' TICKET

A Nice Gift Is Made to All the Male Help Employed at the Popular Works.

Through the generosity of the Parker Pen Co., every male employee of that concern is now a member of the Young Men's Christian association, with his dues paid up three months in advance. Forty-six membership cards have been made out in favor of the men employed by that company, and have been given over to them, with absolutely no restrictions, leaving the men free to avail themselves of the privileges thrown open to them, or not, as they may choose.

On Monday night at the meeting of the board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. Mr. Palmer appeared in behalf of the Parker Pen company and stated the purpose of the company to the directors. The proposition met with instant approval. Steps were immediately taken toward carrying out the affair, and the tickets conferring these privileges on the employees are now in their hands.

Forty-Six Given Memberships
Four members of the company already belonged to the association, but there were still forty-six to whom the gift has been made. The membership card given is the full Senior membership, entitling the holder to all of the privileges of the association, gymnasium, baths, hand ball, courts, and reading rooms.

No agreement is made with the men who have been given these cards of membership, regarding the use which is to be made of them. They are left absolutely free to make use of them, or neglect the privilege. The theory that is held by the company is that the men can no longer say that they are driven to the saloons or other questionable places of amusement on the ground that they have no other place to go.

They Will Continue Members
If the men once get into the habit of attending the association, the pen company believe that they will wish to continue in the use of the privileges which are given with membership. Both Mr. Palmer and Mr. Parker are deeply interested in the work of the association, Mr. Parker being chairman of the finance committee.

This action, says Secretary Kline, is something which he does not believe has ever been taken before. There have been many cases where factory employees have been given a partly paid membership, but this is the first instance of which he knows where a membership ticket has been given, conferring full privileges, with no restrictions whatever.

GAZERS SEARCH FOR THE LEONIDS

Showers of the Little Meteors Are To Be Seen Tonight, if Looked for.

If the weather man keeps his contract for fair weather good and the ruler of the heavens does not make a mistake in the date, the star gazers of Janesville will tonight have the opportunity of seeing showers of Leonids. Often times these Leonids do not shoot off just according to contract but if they do tonight they will be well worth seeing.

A Novel Display
Two or three times in a century they go off and give a meteoric display that can not be equalled for brilliancy by any of the heavenly bodies. Not even comets with their fiery tails are as pretty or lasting as are the Leonids when they are set off properly.

The Andromedes
Should the Leonids disappoint the star gazers or the clouds be so dense that they can not be properly seen the twenty-seventh will give all a chance to witness the display of the Andromedes. At this time the meteors are of a brilliant reddish orange color and have short but luminous tails.

DENISON CUP IS YET UNAWARDED

SENIORS AND SOPHOMORES HAD A TIE GAME.

EACH SIDE NEARLY SCORED

Are Evenly Matched—Great Class Spirit Displayed—All Gains by Straight Football.

On account of darkness it was found necessary to stop the Senior-Sophomore game in the Denison series, yesterday afternoon, before either team had scored. As it was the game was continued sixteen minutes over the time originally agreed upon for the halves, fifteen minutes. The contest was fast and closely played, both teams working down once in the game to within a few yards of a touchdown, and then losing the ball. The seniors on a fumble and the Sophomores through failure to make their gain. The higher class missed a touchdown by two and a half yards, while their opponents were never closer than the fifteen yard line.

A light shower at the beginning of the game, and a damp field made the ball slippery, and fumbles a matter of course. But it was not a loose game. Both lines held firm, and although the backs bombarded the opposing front field with cannon ball force there were no long gains.

Casey made an end run of about fifteen yards and Flaherty one of nearly twenty-five by the same route, but with these exceptions the men rarely made more than their distance.

Both elevens made altogether too free use of their hands, holding at every opportunity, and on several occasions reaping the reward of penalty. Barring this the game was clean and fair. But little kicking was indulged in.

Flaherty made a number of good punts, but Waters was rarely called on.

Hutchinson, both on defense and in carrying the ball played a star game. Flaherty was always ready when called upon, and seldom failed to make his distance, and Casey proved as reliable a ground gainer for the seniors. In fact the three senior backs were all of more than average quality. Palmer and Howland both made some good end runs, although they lacked distance.

Great Spirit Exhibited
Class enthusiasm was at high pitch throughout the game. Yells of every kind and description musical or otherwise, were combined in a chaos of sound which made it almost impossible for the players to make out the signals. It is given on good authority that about one hundred and twenty-five boxes of candy were at stake on the outcome of the struggle, and under the circumstances, the ardor was no more than natural.

There were only a few of the three hundred spectators who were not decorated with either the orange and black or purple and white of the contest classes. Even the referee, Athletic Director Norris, carried long ribbon streamers fluttering from either shoulder, bearing the insignia of the competitors with no partiality.

DEATH CLOSES AN INTERESTING LIFE

Mrs. Mary Earle Passed Away at Her Town of Porter Home.

Mrs. Mary Ann Earle, widow of the late Thomas Earle and grandmother of Justice of the Peace Jesse Earle of this city, died at her home in the town of Porter this morning. Deceased was eighty-nine years of age and death was due to the infirmities of old age. Mrs. Earle having been ill for the past three weeks.

Mrs. Earle was one of the pioneers of Rock county, coming to Janesville as a bride in 1844. Before her marriage she resided in Illinois, and as Mary Ann Waters, she was a school teacher of considerable prominence. When she and her husband, later one of Rock County's sheriffs, came to Janesville, they went direct to the South Main street home of John King, father of Misses Angle and Mary King, where they lived for three months. Mr. Earle was a skilled mechanic and he worked for Mr. King, while Mrs. Earle, who was handy with her needle, was soon busy making the white corded sunbonnets the women and girls wore to church in those days.

Mrs. Earle was a woman of great ability and keen intelligence. After she and her husband had taken up government land in the town of Porter, he went to California for four years and during his absence she managed his business affairs, proving herself a practical farmer of unusual ability. Intellectually she was very bright. During her life she wrote considerable poetry and she possessed a great aptitude for making puns and epigrams. She was a delightful conversationalist, ever having a fund of anecdotes which she told happily. She was a free thinker, a woman of high honor, strict truthfulness and beautiful character. During her days of activity she exerted a wide influence and her individuality made her one of the best known of the country's early pioneers. Deceased leaves five children to mourn her loss, two of whom, Miss Mary Earle and E. L. Earle, reside on the home farm. The other son and two daughters reside in the West.

BAD ACCIDENT IS AVERTED

SEMAPHORE OPERATOR'S GOOD JUDGMENT AT BARRINGTON.

THE TRAIN IS DITCHED

An Awful Smash-Up Is Just Avoided Last Evening by Presence of Mind.

The North-Western road had a bad accident last night at Barrington which resulted in the derailling of the passenger train No. 529, in charge of Engineer Al. Selleck, and Conductor James McCaffrey, due here at 7 p. m. The entire train consisting of three coaches and a baggage car went into the ditch and turned over the engine being the only part of the outfit left standing upright. Fortunately no one was killed and the passengers and trainmen escaped with a few scratches and bruises.

The wreck occurred at the point where the North-Western crosses the Wisconsin Central tracks at Barrington and was caused by the operator in the semaphore tower at the crossing using the derail on the North-Western to prevent them running into a Wisconsin Central passenger train which had the right of way and was about on the crossing.

Making Up Time
The train left Chicago about twenty minutes late and Engineer Selleck was trying to make up the time between Chicago and Harvard. He approached the crossing at a high rate of speed and either did not notice the signals were against him or could not stop.

A Wreck Missed
It looked as though he would hit the Wisconsin Central train nearly in the middle. The semaphore operator in order to prevent a collision threw the derailling rail into position and put the North-Western train into the ditch. The engine broke apart from the tender and remained upright but the balance of the train including the tender turned over on its side. Engineer Selleck and his fireman stuck to their engine and escaped without a scratch.

Good Judgment
The engineer on the Wisconsin Central train saw that a collision was imminent and applied his emergency brake but was unable to stop his train until it had run onto the crossing, so that there would have been a bad smash-up had not the Northwestern train been derailed.

An Old Engineer
Mr. Selleck is one of the oldest engineers in the employ of the Northwestern and has always been very fortunate about having accidents. It is stated that Mr. Selleck assumes all of the blame in the matter and said that the rest of the crew were not at fault.

GIVES LIBERTY TO MOLINEUX

WAS OUT BUT TEN MINUTES

Man Was Accused of Sending Poison Through the Mails to Mrs. Katherine Adams, Causing Her Death, and Once Found Guilty.

New York, Nov. 12.—Roland B. Molineux, triumphantly acquitted of the murder of Mrs. Katherine J. Adams, was driven to the home of his parents in Brooklyn, was clasped in his mother's arms, and, for the first time in four years, was regaled at dinner at the family table.

It was a day of sensations never to be forgotten by the young man, who has spent four years, accused of a terrible crime, and who, for much of that time, has endured torture worse than death itself—in the steel-lined death chamber, in the shadow of the electric chair in Sing Sing, New York.

The jury was ready with the verdict of "Not guilty" within ten minutes after the case was given into its hands by Justice Lambert. Twenty minutes later Foreman Young gravely announced the result in court, and such a scene of enthusiasm followed as never before marked the conclusion of a criminal trial in New York.

Thousands in and out of the Criminal Courts building around the Tombs cheered the verdict. Molineux's appearance outside the Tombs, a free man, was the signal for such an outburst as might have greeted a great political leader.

Gets an Ovation.

His journey to his home in Brooklyn was a series of ovations, and there he was greeted by hundreds who gathered in front of his father's home.

Within an hour after leaving the courthouse Roland Molineux received a telegram from Samuel Harris, the manager of Terry McGovern, offering him $15,000 for a six weeks' engagement on the vaudeville stage. Up to a late hour no reply had been received by Harris.

FARMER BLOWS OUT HIS HEART

Lack of Health Inspires Aged Man to Take His Life.

Bloomington, Ill., Nov. 12.—John Werner, a wealthy farmer residing near Mason City, blew out his heart with a shotgun. Sickens and falling health are supposed to have inspired the deed. He was past 70. After placing the muzzle of the weapon against his heart and the butt of the gun on the floor he pulled both triggers with a poker. Death must have been instantaneous. He leaves a widow and five children.

Vienna, Nov. 12.—There were uproarious scenes in the reichsrath, growing out of the discussion of the election riots in the Favoriten district of this city November 7. ## FRENCH MINERS RESUME WORK

Their Appeal for a General Strike Is Rejected.

Paris, Nov. 12.—At a council of ministers Premier Combs communicated the contents of dispatches he had received from the strike regions showing that the movement to resume work was greatly accentuated and twice the number of men are at work. The hotbed of disorder, Lens, reports that 10,000 men have returned to work. The efforts of the national committee of miners to induce a general strike in other trades are meeting with no success. The strike leaders say that this appeal was made too late; that it should have preceded the submission of the strikers' demands to arbitration. Public opinion is supporting the government.

PRESIDENT BAER STATES HIS CASE

STILL OPPOSES THE UNION

Declares the Mineworkers' Body Is a Bituminous Organization and That the Conditions Differ Materially in the Two Competing Fields.

Washington, Nov. 12.—President Baer of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron company has filed with the anthracite coal strike commission his reply to the demands of the united mineworkers. He says:

"The first demand for 20 per cent increase upon the price paid during the year 1901 to employees performing contract or piece work is arbitrary, unreasonable and unjust. This company denies there is such similarity between the mining of bituminous and of anthracite coal as to make wages paid in one a standard for the other. 'This company denies that the present rate of wages is lower than is paid in other occupations in the same locality and controlled by like conditions. The annual earnings of the anthracite mineworkers are largely reduced by their refusal to work as many days as it is customary to work in other occupations, and by reason thereof this company is subjected to great loss.

Holds Wages Are Good.

"This company denies that the average annual earnings of the men working full time in the anthracite coal field is less than the average annual earnings for occupations requiring equal skill and training.

"This company denies that the rate of wages in the anthracite coal fields is insufficient to compensate the mineworkers in view of the dangerous character of the occupation.

"The sixth specification is too general and vague for specific answer, but the anthracite coal regions are among the most prosperous in the United States; employees of temperate and economic habits have saved money and invested their savings in houses, building associations, and other property, and the standard of living is equal to that of the average American workmen.

Workmen Have Comforts.

"This company denies that the alleged increased cost of living has made it impossible to maintain a fair standard of life upon the basis of the present wages or from securing any benefit from increased prosperity.

"This company further denies that the children of the anthracite mineworkers are prematurely forced into the breakers and mills. No boys are employed in and about the mines and breakers in violation of the statutes fixing the ages of employment.

"This company avers that there is not anywhere else in the world a mining region where the workmen have so many comforts, facilities for education, general advantages and such profitable employment.

Sees No Equity.

"This company denies that the second demand for a reduction of 20 per cent in hours of labor without any reduction of earnings for all employees by the hour, day or week is either just or equitable. The certified miners under present conditions seldom work eight hours a day.

"Any increase in wages will necessarily increase the price of coal to the public, restrict its use, and seriously affect the ability of the industries using it as fuel to compete with the industries using bituminous coal. Because of the injury to the mines by the strike of the United Mine Workers of America the cost of producing coal has been greatly increased.

Doesn't Mine by Ton.

"This company has had no disagreements with any of its employees about the weighing of coal. The quantity is usually determined by measurement; that when coal is mined by the ton it is customary and necessary to make allowances for slate and impurities. But this company does not mine by the ton.

"This company says that the United Mine Workers of America are primarily a bituminous coal organization; that bituminous coal is a rival competitor in the market with anthracite coal; that ever since the advent of the United Mine Workers of America in the anthracite fields the business conditions in the anthracite mines have become intolerable; the output of the mines has decreased, discipline has been destroyed, strikes have been of almost daily occurrence; men worked when and as they pleased, and the cost of mining has been greatly increased.

No Use for Union.

"This company, further answering, avers that the jurisdiction of this commission is limited to the conditions named in the statement of the coal company presidents by virtue of which the commission was appointed, and that by express terms as well as by necessary implication the investigation is confined to matters affecting its employees, and excludes the United Mine Workers of America from any part or recognition in the proceedings, recommendations, or decisions of this commission.

"The company says that it does not, and will not, discriminate against workmen belonging to the United Mine Workers of America or any other labor organization so long as they perform satisfactory work and behave as law-abiding people should; but that the company will at all times employ any person it sees fit, and will not permit any labor organization to limit the right of employment to the members of its organization."

Grand Rapids, Mich., Nov. 12.—The federal grand jury has returned indictments against Postmaster Elmer Herndon of Baldwin, Mich., and D. H. Miller of Chicago, arrested last month on a charge of running a lottery and promotion scheme through the fraudulent use of the mails. In the case of County Treasurer Homer Cutler of Lake county, arrested on the same charge, a "no bill" was returned. Miller pleaded guilty and Herndon pleaded not guilty. The alleged lottery scheme was intended to boom the village of Baldwin.

FEDERAL SALT COMPANY IS HIT

United States Circuit Judge Issues a Permanent Injunction.

San Francisco, Nov. 12.—After United States Attorney Woodworth had concluded his argument in the United States Circuit court on his petition to destroy the Federal Salt company and its associates as a trust, United States Circuit Judge Morrow ordered that the temporary injunction be made permanent as to all the defendants, except the Imperial Salt company, which was not shown to have been a member of the trust. The decision will destroy the trust, it is said.

GETS TWO DECREES OF DIVORCE

Peculiar Mix-up Is Straightened Out by Kentucky Court.

Franklin, Ky., Nov. 12.—Strange litigation appeared on the equity docket at this term of court. Ellen Ellis filed suit asking to be divorced from two husbands. The first she claimed had deserted her, and she married the second while believing she had been legally separated from the first. When told of her error she left the second husband. The facts were established by evidence and the court granted her two decrees.

GOVERNOR MAKES PROGRESS

Mr. Yates' Condition as Good as Could Be Expected.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 12.—Gov. Yates' condition is as satisfactory as at any time in the course of his illness, according to his attending physician. At one time it was feared that the executive was about to suffer a slight relapse. His fever was higher than at the same hour for several days. Later developments, however, allayed all fear. Mrs. Yates is improving steadily.

Diseases Caused by Measles.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Tonic and Nervine Cured After Thirty-one Years.

"I was a perfectly healthy young man up to February 1867. When my regiment was in Camp Randall I was taken sick with the measles and I did not enjoy good health up to the time I used Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and Tonic in 1868. Doctors have told me it came from inactivity of the liver. I cannot say how many physicians did treat me but have had all kinds. Dieting has never helped me. Biliousness, attacks of headache, rheumatism, nasal catarrh, fever, asthma, and chronic diarrhoea have all taken their turn with me. Thanks to the Nervine and Tonic I am completely restored to health. I have also used Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills with good results and I think that the Dr. Miles Remedies are perfect."—Rev. Hiram Bender, Sparta, Wis.

"I want to say a few good words for Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. I have been troubled very much with insomnia since I made the change to the new paper and on account of this have tried various remedies without relief. I was finally induced by a wholesale druggist, a personal friend of mine, to try Nervine. I can assure you it has done me a lot of good. I do not find it necessary to use it regularly now but occasionally when I find that I am excessively nervous and restless I again take it up as I always keep a supply on hand. It has never failed to give me the best of sleep."—Huegin, Publisher "Daily Free-Press" Milwaukee, Wis.

MRS. HELENA BLAV, Young Milwaukee Society Woman.

Thousand cured women have written to tell how Wine of Cardui bestows the blessing of health on every woman who takes it, rich and poor alike. Mrs. Helena Blav, No. 123 Seventh Street, Milwaukee, Wis., is one of the young women whom Wine of Cardui has rescued from a life of suffering. She writes:

"Wine of Cardui is certainly 'worn out' women's best friend and I am pleased to give my experience with it. A few months ago I caught a severe cold, having been out in inclement weather, which settled all over me, particularly in the abdomen. I was in almost constant pain. I consulted a physician and took his medicine for a month and without any relief. I then decided I would try your medicine and it was a lucky day for me when I did so. I noticed a change in a few days and felt encouraged to continue taking Wine of Cardui, and my patience was rewarded, for in two weeks my pains had left me and I felt like a new woman."

WINE of CARDUI A million suffering women have found relief in Wine of Cardui.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Carr of Janesville were out to G. E. Osborne's Sunday.
There was a large crowd at the oyster supper at J. B. Sprackling's Friday evening and the society cleared eleven dollars from the supper. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Austin of Janesville.

The quarterly meeting of Free Baptist will convene with the church her this week, opening with an institute and sermon Thursday evening and continuing over Sunday. Rev. Ellen Copp of Evansville will preach Friday evening and the missionary meeting with a program will be held Saturday evening.
Miss Ada Fellows of Janesville has been spending several days at W. J. Cook's.

It makes quite a difference with a notice which is written to read 10-30 and is made by the types to read 1-30.
We are glad to note that three of the women who went to the polls in our town and voted Tuesday were from this place.
Miss Julia Wheeler is a little better.

Wonder is expressed that so few women went to the polls to vote on election day. The most of ... women were so indignant because they could not vote the whole ticket they would not vote at all, and while perhaps they are not wholly excusable for this, yet there is some reason for their indignation in being classed with idiots, Indians and insane persons. If a woman is a citizen of this republic, is there any reason why she should not have the privilege of exercising a citizen's right at the ballot box? And surely one of the greatest privileges that can be conferred upon any citizen is the opportunity to cast a ballot for what they think is right. It is only a relic of barbarism that they are debarred from this right. In all uncivilized countries women are considered inferior to men but it ought not to be so in enlightened America. It is simply man rule for God decreed that "All men (meaning the race) are created free and equal," and never will Christian America occupy the exalted position until all her citizens are enfranchised, and this great injustice which is such a blot upon our civilization is removed.

BRODHEAD

A LURKING DANGER!!

DANGER

lurks in every ache of the back. Don't be deceived by backache. Don't mistake its meaning. Don't fail to realize the serious side of a "bad back."

The pains and aches of a "bad back" are many and varied—sharp stitches—severe twitches—acute twinges of pain—slow exhaustive aches. The back is tired, is lame and weak.

The "danger in it" comes from the kidneys, for most backache pains are but kidney ills. Backache tells of a kidney blockade. The delicate little kidney filters are clogged and warn you through the back. Go to the assistance of the kidneys when they "cry for help." Don't experiment—take is near at hand when the kidneys are sick. The urinary discharges tell the kidneys' condition. "A brickdust" like deposit in the urine, or when too highly colored, too frequent in passage, irregular in any way, neglect is serious.

Doan's Kidney Pills.

DANGER

Disorders of the kidneys and bladder call for prompt attention. The early symptoms are but forerunners of dangerous diabetes, hard to shake off—dropsy, which makes an invalid of the most vigorous constitution—Bright's disease, dread destroyer, incurable in advanced stages.

Doan's Kidney Pills act quickly—cure quickly. Don't wait until too late.

JANESVILLE PROOF.

SOUTH RIVER STREET.

Mrs. S. L. Belden of 64 S. River street says: "During two or three years I suffered most of the time with a terrific dragging down pain in my back just over the kidneys. It was very trying when I was at work and if I did any lifting my bladder became affected causing me considerable annoyance. I also had attacks of headache (which seemed like congestion in the top and back of my head). When I read about Doan's Kidney Pills I did not have any too much confidence in them but my daughter got a box at the People's Drug Co.'s store and persuaded me to use them. They took right hold and made a wonderful change in my condition. I hardly realized how bad I was until Doan's Kidney Pills brought me relief from the afflictions."

SOUTH FRANKLIN STREET.

Mr. L. Lawrence of 408 S. Franklin St. engineer at the Janesville Electric Co., says: "Seven years ago I injured my back by falling through a bridge near Afton into the Rock River I was on a traction engine, its weight broke through and the whole thing went into the stream. Since that time my back has ached by spells sometimes very severely. If I caught cold it settled in my kidneys and if I brought a strain on my back lifting the result was a bad back ache and sharp twinges of pain in my loins. I procured Doan's Kidney pills at the People's Drug store and after I used them I was free from backache. I am in better health than at any time since falling through the bridge."

D. D. D. SPECIAL OFFER

diseases of the skin.

We have lately secured the agency for this city and vicinity of a preparation which is reliable and certain in clearing away troubles of the skin. Many forms of skin affections which have been considered incurable are conquered by this medicament as easily as a cough is stopped by the proper soothing and healing influences. This preparation is now in use among skin specialists, and many large hospitals have adopted it for eczema and kindred cases. It stands among the most useful medical agents now known.

We have evidence of its work to show which will interest any sufferer. Call and investigate same. Since we have been handling the remedy—known as D. D. D.—its work proves so effective we guarantee its efficacy. In all cases of skin affection we will refund the price of a bottle ($1) if the sufferer does not consider it literally a Godsend after trying. It is curing the worst kind of cases every day. It seems a pity any one should suffer the torture of skin troubles when so dependable a curative agent can be had so cheaply.
